

Last Name	First Name	Grad_year	Degree	Major	Title
Alexander	Shea	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	Eleven dresses: A study
Hamlin	Reagan	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	Female consumers' perceptions of advertising
Li	Yuqing	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	Chinese consumer's evaluation of multinational and domestic discount store image and store satisfaction
McKinley	Heather	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	A case study examination: Developing a retail store renovation design according to the LEED rating system
Nam	Minjung	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	Consumer use of the internet in shopping for unique products
Sheaffer	Dawn	2008	MS	Design, Housing and Merchandising	Female baby boomer preferences for healthcare facility design in relation to hotel design
Buller	Julianna	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	The impact of family of origin conflict management style on participation in a violent intimate relationship
Fincham	Lyda	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	A baseline exploratory study of marriage and family therapists perceived preparedness to work in the disaster mental health field
Goodwin	Pamela	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	Sensory experiences in the early childhood classroom: Teachers' use of activities, perceptions of the importance of activities, and barriers to implementation

Last Name	First Name	Grad_year	Degree	Major	Title
McDougal	Kristin	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	A preliminary investigation of the use of last-resort tactics to discipline toddlers
Moore	Kathleen	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	School readiness: Parent-child activities, teachers' perceptions, and students' skills
Moore	Nicole	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	Differences among parents whose concerns about child overweight are realistic or not
Rolling	Emily	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	Attachment styles and negative affect: Identifying underlying processes
Thompson	Dana	2008	MS	Human Development and Family Science	An unequal and unlevel playing field: Critically examining the race-conscious affirmative action legal debate in higher education through the eyes of the Council on Legal Education Opportunity (CLEO)
Kim	Yong	2008	MS	Hospitality Administration	Intention to stay and customers' perceptions about the effectiveness and the components of environmentally friendly programs in hotels
Park	Soo	2008	MS	Hospitality Administration	A comparative study of logit and Artificial Neural Networks in predicting bankruptcy in the hospitality industry
Yang	Jing	2008	MS	Hospitality Administration	Merger abnormal returns and payment methods of hospitality firms
Archis	Suneetee	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Metabolic profile of a cohort of Native American and African American children and pre-adolescents in rural Oklahoma

Last Name	First Name	Grad_year	Degree	Major	Title
Austin	Heidi	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Fruit and vegetable intake among low income Hispanic families with pre-school children
Baker	Eric	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	The relation of maternal feeding practices and food socialization behaviors to weight status in low income 3- and 4-year old children
Bradley	Lauren	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Changes in resting metabolic rate and dietary intake among high school wrestlers from pre-season to post-season
Briggs	Natalie	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	A comparative study of green tea beverage and green tea extract supplementation on clinical variables and oxidative stress in subjects with metabolic syndrome (MeS)
Cragun	Elizabeth	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	The number of lessons needed to maximize behavior change among Community Nutrition Education Program (CNEP) participants
Evans	Christina	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	The effect of blueberries on lipid parameters of ovariectomized rats
Jung	Seung Eun	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Comparison of factors influencing body weight among diverse individuals receiving food stamps
Layton	Keri	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Socioecologic factors affecting overweight and obesity in African American, Native American and White limited income women
Okwori	Esther	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Relation of dietary and socioeconomic characteristics of mothers to child growth in Sabon Gari local government area, Zaria, Nigeria

Last Name	First Name	Grad_year	Degree	Major	Title
Pruitt	Amy	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Vitamin D status in breastfeeding Ethiopian women living in two rural villages
Sanchez	Karah	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	The effects of green tea supplementation in subjects with metabolic syndrome in Oklahoma
Schrader	Megan	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	A comparative analysis of dual energy x-ray absorptiometry and skinfold measurements in determining body composition and minimum wrestling weight in adolescent wrestlers
Teshome	Getenesh	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Feeding practices and factors contributing to stunting and low hemoglobin among infants in southern Ethiopia
Wotango	Alemtsehay	2008	MS	Nutritional Sciences	Iodine status and cognitive function of mother-child pairs in Sidama, southern Ethiopia
Kim	Sang	2008	PHD	Human Environmental Sciences - Hospitality Administration	Examination of executive compensation determinants in the hospitality industry: A quantile regression approach